

This is a viable and worthwhile change that will allow amatuer radio to make the most of new programs. This rule change should include J2C type emissions.